

Call for Abstracts for Oral & Poster Presentations at the upcoming

NORTHWEST SCIENTIFIC ASSOCIATION

91st ANNUAL MEETING

A Joint Meeting with Northwest Lichenologists

University of Oregon, Eugene OR, March 24–27, 2020

“Looking back to plan forward:
The relevance of history for today's environmental challenges”

Keynote Address by Dr. Patrick Bartlein, University of Oregon

“What Long-term Climate Change in the Pacific Northwest Really Looks Like”

Banquet Presentation by Dr. Dennis Jenkins

“Archaeology and Science at the Paisley Caves”

Museum of Natural and Cultural History

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Managing for First Foods
Climate Change and Seed Sourcing
Natural Climate Solutions in the PNW

WORKSHOPS

Introduction to Manipulating and Visualizing Data in R
Bryophyte and Lichen Identification more to be announced soon...

General Topics for Contributed Papers/Posters

Anthropology & Archaeology
Botany
Climatology & Meteorology
Ecology
Fire Ecology
Fisheries

Forestry
Geology & Geomorphology
Hydrology
Lichenology & Bryology
Natural Resources
Paleontology

Plant Ecology
Range Management
Restoration Ecology
Wildlife Biology
other

Join Scientists from all over the Northwest, present your latest research, and exchange ideas.

Abstract Submission opens January 2020

Student participation encouraged!

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

<https://www.northwestscience.org/>

2020 TENTATIVE PROGRAM

Tuesday – March 24

- NWSA Board Meeting
- NWSA Evening Social 6:00–9:30 PM (Wildcraft Ciderworks, Eugene)

Wednesday – March 25

- Keynote Address and Plenary Session
- Special Sessions and Workshops
- Concurrent, Contributed/Invited Oral & Poster Sessions
- Evening Banquet: Museum of Natural and Cultural History, University of Oregon (limited space available)

Thursday – March 26

- Special Sessions and Workshops
- Concurrent, Contributed/Invited Oral & Poster Sessions
- NWSA Business Meeting and Lunch – all invited, and lunch is included with registration

Friday - March 27: Field Trips

- Dorena Genetic Research Center
- Northwest Lichenologists
- Environmental history of the southern Willamette Valley and Coast Range

Visit our website for more information <https://www.northwestscience.org/>

Or contact Daniel Gavin, 2020 NWSA 91st Annual Meeting Chair at dgavin@uoregon.edu

Valley of the Coast Fork of the Willamette River, from Mt. Pisgah